

Imaris: learn how to segment and quantify time - lapse data sets

During this workshop we will cover 3D image segmentation and time lapse analysis. We will discuss the different tracking algorithms included in Imaris and how to plot time-lapse data in multi-dimensional multi-parameter graphs in order to investigate migration patterns, how different object properties can depend on each other and how such relationships can vary over time